

Native user-role syntax increases instruction following inside tool output

Bars show audited success rates; labels report percentage and successful examples / total.